

Article 70

If the seller has committed a fundamental breach of contract, articles 67, 68 and 69 do not impair the remedies available to the buyer on account of the breach.

OVERVIEW

1. Under article 70, even though risk of loss or damage to the goods has passed to the buyer as provided in the preceding three articles, the buyer retains its remedies unimpaired if the seller has committed a fundamental breach of contract. There are no reported cases applying this article.
